ONE RUN MARGIN LOSES PENNANT FOR NILES NINE

Ten Inning Contest At Irvington Sunday Ends 5 to 4

Four unearned runs in the first inning, all the results of errors, lost the championship of the Don Harder Class B League for the Niles C. of C's. Sunday, when they fought through ten heart-breaking innings with the San Leandro nine at the Irvington diamond.

Settling down after the first canto, to play steady ball, the Niles boys trailed until the eighth frame, when Pine's double scored Amyx and Brown. In the ninth Tony Duarte's single scored Pine and Cull, to tie the tally four all, where it remained until first half of the tenth, when another error slid the winning San Leandro run across the plate. Niles squeezed two men on the bags in their half of the tenth, but failed to hit. The game ended with Niles championship hopes borne away by a triumphant San Leandro crew.

Joe Blacow, Niles captain, is to be commended on the determination he showed to get Niles to the top of the list. It was in good part Blacow's sheer will that held the Niles nine together as a class A club.

Clarence Pine, stocky and effective manager and catcher, was a steadying influence all through the season.

TO WASHINGTON TOWNSHIP VOTERS

Of interest to Register readers this week, in relation to the coming primary election on August 28, is a reproduction, on page 4, of a circular sent out to every newspaper in California, asking that the voters of the state be informed of the past record of Ira F. Thompson, appelate supreme court justice.

Norman H. Parks, publisher of the Township Register, who has been intensively campaigning throughout central California in behalf of George Edward Acret, Thompson's Only opponent, while he hazards no opinion as to the outcome of the election, states that the candidacy of a man of Thompson's calibre should not go unchallenged. It is signifigant to note that Thompson has attained high judicial office through appointment. His name has not appeared before on any ballot. He is not a servant of the people.

DEMOCRATIC RALLY DRAWS THRONGS FRIDAY

More than two hundred Democrats thronged the Garden of Allah Friday night to hear John A. Grennan, Jr. and Charles H. Spinks, Wardell supporters, at a huge rally sponsored by the Wardell club, headed by Nell F. Myers and Tom Powers.

Grennan gave a history of the Democratic party in California, and told Wardell's part in it. Spinks compared the candidate with George Creel and Upton Sinclair, giving a short resume of the past lives of the three men. The speakers were introduced by Tom Powers.

Entertainment at the meet was a series of piano solos and several accordian numbers by the small son of Mr. and Mrs. Silva, of Niles.

PRISONER HAGGLES WITH JUDGE ON SENTENCE

Admitting that his "head was a "little too big" and had led him to devious activities after a prolonged drinking bout, Jose Perez, of Alvarado appeared before Judge J. A. Silva Friday afternoon and was clapped in the county bastille for thirty days.

According to reports, Perez was arrested by officer J. A. Ritchie, of the sheriff's office after a phone call had come into Niles from the proprietor of an Alvarado pool hall, to the effect that Perez was trying to rob the place. Upon arrival of the officers, who promptly collared Perez, the proprietor refused to swear out a complaint. The officer swore to a vagrancy charge and brought the miscreant to Niles.

He was hailed before Judge Silva, and admitted his guilt. After hearing the sentence, Perez is said to have attempted to bargain with the judge, maintaining that the sentence could be whittled down to 15 days and still be effective. The judge is said to have averred that he did not believe the court a good place to haggle. The sentence remained at thirty days.

PERSISTANT CALLER NABBED BY POLICE SUNDAY NIGHT

A broken door lock and a lot of loud nocturnal wrangling with the surrounding residents, wound up in the Niles justice court Monday, with John Stenman, of Hayward, accused of disturbing the peace and tranquility of Niles.

Stenman was arrested Sunday night at 10:30 o'clock on complaint of Niles people after he had pounded, and finally broken, the front door of Mrs. Madelyn Duarte's house on Third street.

Accosted by Clarence Crane, a neighbor, while in the act of pounding the door, Stenman stated that he was attempting to rouse the occupants. After a few more lusty passes at the door, Stenman departed, and the neighborhood went back to bed. In a few minutes, however, the banging was resumed, this time with the desired effect. The door was open. According to neighbors, who had again trooped to their windows, Stenman could be seen going about in the Duarte house with matches, apparently seeking something. Without further delay, constable Tom Silva was called. Before the officer arrived Stenman left for the second time. He was apprehended when he returned again. He was lodged in the Niles jail Sunday night pending examination. His automobile was placed in the custody of Clarence Crane for the night.

Hailed before Judge J. A. Silva Monday, Stenman pleaded guilty to a charge of disturbing the peace. He will appear for sentence on August 31.

DILL FOR FAMOUS PICKLES GROWN IN THIS REGION

A little known, but nonetheless active industry in Washington township is the raising and harvesting of dill, that particular ingredient that delivers the punch for the well-known dill pickle.

A plant with a liking for warm sections, the dill grows well in the Mission San Jose and Irvington districts, where several large fields are being harvested at the present time. A number of Niles boys are employed to follow the mower and bundle up the tall stalks preparatory to loading the trucks. The cutting must be done in the early morning hours, before the plants are warmed by the rising sun. Heat causes the cut stalk to wither rapidly.

A Hayward canning concern is purchasing the locally grown dill. When the stalks arrive at the cannery, the seeds are extracted and used in the manufacture of pickles.

Civic Group Gains New Members During Summer

Although ostensibly inactive for the summer months, the Niles Chamber of Commerce has been very much alive, according to word from A. J. Petsche, secretary of the civic group this week.

Several new members have been brought into the organization, Petsche said. Among the new signers are: the California Nursery Company, Bert Silveria and Louis Lewis.

The chamber will resume weekly meetings on the second Monday in September. Summer adjournment was on June 25.

FORMER NILES YOUTH INJURED IN MOTORCYCLE-AUTO CRASH SATURDAY

Steven Cozzi Painfully Hurt Saturday Night At Hayward

Returning to his home in Hayward Saturday evening, after visiting with his brother in Niles, Steven Cozzi, former local youth, was seriously injured when his motorcycle crashed into a car driven by an Oakland couple.

The accident occured at an intersection in Hayward, when Cozzi, apparently not noticing the approaching car, attempted to make a left turn. He was hurled against the automobile by the impact.

Rushed to the Hayward emergency hospital in an unconscious state, Cozzi was given first aid treatment. He recovered consciousness several hours later. His injuries were later found to be less serious that at first supposed. He was to have returned to his home Tuesday, but X-rays showed a simple fracture of the skull. He was kept for further treatment.

He had been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Reynaldo Cozzi here.

REGISTERS AT U. C.

Miss Estelle Mae Martenstein, a graduate of the local high school with the class of 1934, will register at the University of California today. Miss Martenstein is the daughter of Mr and Mrs. Clarence Martenstein, of Niles. She is a popular member of the younger set in this district.

SCHOOL CHILDREN TO HAVE EXTRA PLAY SPACE

The great open spaces have come to Niles, it seems, following a decision of the board of grammar school trustees to add a large tract to the Niles school yard. The addition, still to be surfaced and fenced, extends back from the former fence line, almost to the creek channel. The extra space afforded will make it possible to lay out a better baseball diamond, without the danger of long hits knocking plaster off the school buildings.

In addition to the new play field, the entire school yard has been graded and smoothed out. The clay, hard-packed by countless small feet, has been scraped and rolled. The E. E. Dias company is doing the work.

The need of additional space has been felt for a long time, as the attendance at the school has gradually increased.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

By NORMAN H. PARKS, Publisher Register

GOODBYE, MY FRIENDS

(Editorial to be Published in Pleasanton Times Tomorrow)

Last Saturday morning the final papers were signed over, transferring the Pleasanton Times from the ownership of the writer to that of Leon Lester, formerly a newspaper publisher at Camerillo, Ventura county.

It is with genuine regret that the writer says a final goodbye to the readers of the Pleasanton Times. For five years we have been addressing the people of Pleasanton through the editorial columns. Our personal contact with the people there has been most cordial and pleasant. While the reader has often disagreed with the editor's political and social ideas, those so disagreeing have shown a breadth of vision and a magnanimity of opinion that has always permitted us to continue together on a friendly footing.

It is no idle gesture upon our part, now that the time has come to sever our connection with the Times and the people of Pleasanton, that we are genuinely sad. The paper has been a joy to us, and has been consistently profitable. We have been treated exceptionally well by the people of the rich Amador Valley and shall cherish always the kindly acts shown us, and bestowed upon those who represented us in the publication of the Times.

It would be amiss, if at this time we failed to pay tribute to Miss Hazel Mendoza, who for over four years has been a trusted and capable employee of the Times. Her loyalty has been one of the bright spots in our life, and the capable manner in which, during the past year and a half, she has managed the entire business of this newspaper, has been a great tribute to her ability as an executive.

Mr. Lester comes to you highly recommended by his fellow newspapermen. He is a man of substantial financial standing; has a fine family; is a capable publisher. He will live here and become a part of your business and social life. The change will be beneficial to the community unit. The writer wishes him the utmost success and stands ready to aid him in every way within our power.

Most sincerely yours,
NORMAN H. PARKS

TO THE PEOPLE OF CALIFORNIA

As a candidate for Lieutenent-Governor, I feel that the people of California have a right to know my position on matters pertaining to the conduct of State government, and while many of the following statements may have no relation whatever to the position of Lieutenent-Governor, I am pleased, however, to submit them for public consideration so that all might know my attitude on questions pertaining to the public welfare.

1st—The unemployment situation is today the paramount question confronting the people of California, and the State must be prepared to co-operate in a practical manner with city and county officials everywhere in providing work wherever possible for relief of the unemployed.

2nd.—We are not going to make any progress in the reduction of taxes until we introduce rigid economy in every department of State government, and until we place the financial structure of the State on a sound, substantial basis.

3rd.—The State should be compelled to conduct its business absolutely within its income, and within the limits of a carefully prepared budget, so as to prevent a recurrence of the present emergency, wherein it may be necessary to impose an ad valorum tax upon the people in order to raise sufficient revenue for the conduct of State government.

4th.—The dairy, agricultural, fish and industrial interests of our State must be encouraged and fully protected, and whenever possible every particle of produce and materials used in our State institutions and in the several departments of State should be of California production and manufacture.

5th.—A more rigid and thorough system of examination of State banks, trust companies and building and loan associations should be introduced, so as to fully protect depositors against possible loss.

6th.—I am opposed to the present indeterminate sentence law, and to the present secret parole hearings as conducted by the "State Prison Board," which permits hardened criminals to be turned loose upon society often to continue their criminal career.

7th.—If elected Lieutenant-Governor, I shall seek to arrange my Senate Committees so as to give equitable representation to all parts of the State, to all forms of industry, and to all classes of labor, and without discrimination to any part of California.

Respectfully submitted,

ALBERT E. SHERMAN,

Candidate for Lieutenant-Governor of California

VOTERS WILL DECIDE ON FIRE DISTRICT AT IRVINGTON

Voters of the Irvington district will pass final muster on the formation of the Irvington Fire District, on September 11, which is the date set by the board of supervisors for the ballot.

The movement for a fire district in Irvington was launched last spring by a number of the younger businessmen, who felt that progress in the town was being retarded by a high insurance rate, and the real hazard of conflagrations. In the past it has always fallen upon neighboring departments to extinguish Irvington blazes.

It is the contention of Irvington residents that the election will carry by a large majority. Irvington will be the sixth town in Washington township to form a district and maintain its own department.

Joe E. Brown, at his frolicksome best, comes for a three day engagement Sunday in "The Circus Clown." On the same program is the screen version of Poe's thriller, "The Black Cat" Boris Karloff and Bela Lugosi will have the audience in continuous chills.

William Powell, star of the "Thin Man" comes again, this time in "The Key" for Wednesday and Thursday, August 22 and 23. "Twin Husbands" with John Miljan is an added feature.

QUINN FLAYS CORONER'S METHODS

County-Paid Deputies Help Run Coroner's Private Funeral Firm

By JAMES H. QUINN

Alameda County taxpayers pay the present Coroner and his two chief deputies salaries which total $9,340 a year.

But under the present "system," the Coroner and his two chief deputies are using a large percentage of their time in conducting the Coroner's own private funeral firm.

Misleading "Savings"

Charged with his failure to stop this tax-eating waste, the present Coroner produces, very proudly, some nice round figures by which he tries to show how he has saved something like $80,000 to the public during the lifetime he has been in office.

Taxpayers will not be fooled by such trickery. Particularly when they examine the figures and see that the main item of alleged savings consists of rent that the Coroner MIGHT have charged for using his private funeral building as a public office.

"Yes, We Charge No Rent!"

Due to his love of "economy" and tender regard for the taxpayer, the Coroner says that he did not charge one little cent of rent for his building. Thus he saved $86,000. Just like that.

The truth, of course, is that the Coroner's office is no different than any other office. It should be located in tax-free, county buildings. And chief deputies should be no different than any other public employees. They should devote their full time to their work.

Locating his office at his private funeral firm does make it more convenient for the Coroner and his county-paid deputies to build up their private undertaking business. But far from being a saving to the taxpayer, the present method is really a handout from the public to help a private business prosper.

And this "helpful" little subsidy is costing every one of us actual, hard-earned dollars. It is high time that this "system" be stopped in this county, as it has been stopped in almost every other county in the state.

If I am elected Coroner it will be stopped. I shall see that no funeral director will ever profit privately at the taxpayers' expense.

Hear Quinn At One of these Meetings

Plan to hear James H. Quinn explain the issues of the Coroner campaign at one of these meetings next week:

Monday, 8:30 p.m., Glenview Club.
Tuesday, 8:15 p.m., Sons of St. George.
8:45 p.m., Fruitvale Eagles.
Wednesday, 8:30 p.m., Rally, Porter School, Alameda.
Thursday, 8:45 p.m., Radio address, KTAB.
Friday, Two evening talks before Veterans groups.
Sunday, Picnic, El Cerrito Park.

What YOU Can Do To Elect Quinn as Coroner

Would you like to help James H. Quinn in his courageous fight to make the Coroner's office a public office and to stop the tax-eating waste of having the two chief deputies give only part of their time to county work? If so, do as thousands of other aroused taxpayers are doing—go to work actively to elect Quinn at the primaries, August 28th. Here are some of the things you can do to win this fight:

1. Arrange meetings of your neighbors and friends, to be addressed by Mr. Quinn.

2. Explain to your friends the danger of allowing a public office to be run for private gain.

3. Distribute campaign literature. Display Quinn cards in your windows. Put Quinn bumper strips and stickers on your car.

Let us ask you this, Mr. Coroner:

1. If, as you have said, you favor economy in your office, couldn't you, if you tried real hard, get along without two county-paid chief deputies? (The way to do it would be to devote your full time to public, instead of private business.)

2. Do you think it is fair that the Coroner should use his office to create a monopoly in the undertaking business?

3. Would it be asking too much to have you and your personal publicity agent agree as to the exact amount you have "saved" the taxpayers? (We refer to your three separate statements, quoting alleged "savings" of $60,000, $80,000 and $84,000.)

THOMPSON ENEMY OF FREEDOM OF THE PRESS

JAILED EDITOR FOR CRITICISING COURT DECISION INVOLVING BOULDER DAM BILL

FELLOW NEWSPAPERMEN:

I am presenting a record of Ira F. Thompson, candidate for associate justice of the California supreme court, for your review. I do not expect that you will read every article on this page, but I hope and believe you will, even by a hasty scanning of the headlines and text of the numerous clippings, be convinced that you have a vital interest in the judiciary contest having its final settlement in the August primaries.

If I have advertised myself in this political broadside, it has been unavoidable. It has been necessary to prove to the reader that in the mix-up with Thompson I had the people with me. It has seemed necessary to me to convince my fellow publishers and newspaper workers, beyond the peradventure of doubt, that in my brush with the court of Judge Ira F. Thompson I held no malice against the man, I was settling no political or personal score. I had nothing to gain, financially or otherwise, by questioning the wisdom of his decision in that re-call fight eight years ago. Thompson was an entire stranger to me. He had but a few months previously been appointed to the superior court bench of Los Angeles county. He had never been elected to any office, nor has he since, I believe. Three times in the past eight years he has been the beneficiary of executive favor. He now sits upon the supreme court bench by the grace of the late Governor Rolph.

While I deplore—and honestly—that my name appears so often in this informative sheet, I want you to forget Norman H. Parks, and remember only that it might have been somebody else—any one of you who read this article. I do not count—just happened to be the victim. Marched off to jail for disagreeing with a judge's decision, fell to my lot. It did not click with the freedom of the press, presumably guaranteed to us by the first amendment of the federal constitution.

Eight years have passed since then, and today we find the most threatening movement to abridge the liberties of the press in the nation's history. We must stand together in this hour when a world-wide assault is being made upon the institutions of a free press and free speech. But for the courage and watchfulness of our more daring co-publishers, metropolitan and rural, the license system would have been clapped on the newspapers during the early months of 1933, which, if done, would have forged the first chains to throttle free and open discussion of political issues, possibly religious ones as well.

In this crucial period we can ill afford to let a man of the Thompson type become an elective member of the supreme court bench of California. His judicial tyranny of yesterday still lives. His opinion has not changed. He still believes himself and all courts to be above criticism. He and the judiciary, according to his philosophy, would be kings—he and they can do no wrong! Any one bold enough to question this musty doctrine of early English law, Thompson would jail.

The attitude of this judicial autocrat during my trial eight years ago was one of bitterness and malice, merely because an editor had dared to criticize him. When pronouncing sentence, he turned to the chair where the sheriff had been sitting a few moments before, and actually snarled from between his teeth, "Sheriff, take the prisoner to jail IMMEDIATELY!" He might have added, appropriate to his mood, "and put him in chains."

The disgraceful and cowardly thing Thompson did down in Imperial Valley, he believes all judges have a right to do.

Upon the supreme court bench he passes upon libel and criminal and civil contempt, when appealed from a lower court.

Forget about Norman H. Parks, just a country editor, but remember this: You may be the next object of judicial wrath. IT IS SOMETHING WORTH REMEMBERING.

Sincerely yours,
NORMAN H. PARKS,
Publisher Register, Niles;
Times, Pleasanton.

Imperial-istic

By JIM BOLGER
(Staff Editorial Writer for Scripps-Howard Papers)

HONORABLE heavens, oh, shade of Blackstone—is this the law?

Is this a "second Daniel come to judgment?"

Honorable Blackstone, consider Editor Norman H. Parks of Holtville. Consider Superior Judge Ira F. Thompson of Los Angeles, the "Daniel."

Blackstone, old fellow, I would like to treat this great folly of the court with the humor it deserves were it not for the seriousness that attends it and the utter distaste I have for the stigma which might fall on my unsuspecting children and their children's children.

Understand, Honorable Blackstone, it is not the jail sentence I fear. (Since it seems the obsession of the court of which I speak to hand out jail sentences to those who take advantage of the Bill of Rights of the widely advertised Constitution of the United States, I am quite sure I would get a life sentence if I made light of Judge Ira F. Thompson, a just and "most honorable man.")

I HAVE always envied John Hancock the opportunity of hurling a defi into the teeth of a silly old demagogue like King George III. Yet, for my children's sake, I have been meek and will remain meek. I'll not be known as a stigmatic for the pleasure of such an honorable judge as Judge Ira F. Thompson.

It is for such men as Editor Norman H. Parks to become the heroes, to be the modern Daniels in the modern lions' den.

Oh, righteous shade of Blackstone, is such the law?—

In the fair and justly called Imperial there is something, Blackstone, more putrid, more repulsive, more rotten than politics.

It is the hand of a scourge, say the farmers, the heedless, vulture-like thing, un-named here, but known to citizens of Imperial county as the "man who would be king."

** * **

EDITOR NORMAN H. PARKS who is sitting here, Blackstone, the nervous, clean-cut man on my right, dared to defy the "man who would be king." As all self-respecting editors should, he assailed the unnamed vulture who would hurl the farmers of Imperial and Editor Parks into the All-American canal, if such an action would close the matter forever.

Editor Parks tells the story and gives it an interpretation that even the wise and upright judge who denies him the right of free speech cannot deny:

"Recall petitions were ready for filing against Judge Marvin W. Conkling and District Attorney Ernest Utley of Imperial county. Judge Thompson, a Los Angeles judge who need not fear the sentiment of the people in Imperial who do not vote for him, came in and stopped the action."

EVERYBODY in Southern California who does his duty as a citizen and knows the facts of the rotten mess politely called politics, appreciates the bitter fight which has raged over the Swing-Johnson Bill. Blackstone, old fellow, if they don't I can't take the space here to explain it.

This concerns Editor Norman H. Parks, who dared to do what many fear to think of doing.

He said this of Judge Ira Thompson, who was called in to "sit" (sit is right!) on the recall petitioners. He hurled this defi at the man who is a "most honorable man" BEFORE the judge had rendered a WRITTEN decision on the case, but AFTER he had orally expressed it:

". . . Judge Thompson . . . imported to sit involving the recall of Utley—and eventually Conkling, a judge who, presumably picked Thompson as the man to come down here—has virtually nullified the provisions of the recall. He has set aside in legal phraseology reeking with fallacious reasoning the statute of the state.

"This sort of thing is judicial bolshevism, and breeds contempt for the courts and all law."

With bitterness in his heart Judge Ira F. Thompson, an honorable man, but perhaps not altogether a wise one, once again invaded the tranquil calm of the farmers whose toil-calloused hands welcomed Editor Parks as "friend." He came to "sit' on the "fighting Editor of Holtville" and he did.

With the trick scenery of a court that had two very good friends of the writer painted into it, he "sat" on nervous, yet determined Editor Parks and fined him $500 and sentenced him to spend five days in jail, dramatically calling on Sheriff Charley Gillett to "take this man to jail immediately." Fortunately the good sheriff of Imperial county could not be found to drag the vicious criminal from the court room. Even the enemies of Parks were surprised by the bitterness of the court.

THE least you can say, oh shade of Blackstone, is that it was a discouragement to the profession, the profession Editor Parks represents—clean journalism. His very bearing, his talk, his editorial comment shows no malice, no journalistic trickery.

Blackstone, consider him. He dared to write what he believed. He mantled no lie with a cloak of editorial deceit. He told Judge Thompson what he thought of the decision in plain American English. Fie, fie, on the court, Blackstone, if he can not stand criticism. It shows a weak spot.

Blackstone, because the Holtville editor at my right did not "bow down and worship the hierarchy of the courts and accept the word of Thompson as the word of God," must he be forced to undergo the pains of the rack?

Come now, Blackstone, is that the law?

Indeed, Blackstone, you said "that the king can do no wrong."

But you referred to a fundamental principle of the English law—and this is the United States!

George Edward Acret, Thompson's only Opponent

There is but one candidate opposing Ira F. Thompson for associate justice of the California supreme court, namely George Edward Acret, prominent Los Angeles attorney.

I have taken the trouble to investigate Acret very thoroughly, and I find him to be a clean, able man, and above all, a tolerant one. His sympathies are with the people in their struggle for a more equitable distribution of wealth and power. His record over many years' of political activity has proven him true to the principles of democracy, and, according to his philosophy as written into actual practice, has been that the rights of humanity are superior to the rights of vested interests. A reactionary supreme court can nullify every piece of progressive legislation by ruling the measure to be unconstitutional.

Acret is one of the people, like you and me. He believes in a free press—the foundation upon which all free governments rest—is a champion of free speech and a firm believer in the right of orderly assembly.

A vote for Acret is a vote to preserve your liberties.

NORMAN H. PARKS

Convicted Editor Is Hero Of Farmers In Imperial

By MAX STERN
(Staff Correspondent of The Sun)
(San Diego Sun)

EL CENTRO, Feb. 4.—The struggle for possession of water and power rights to the Lower Colorado river, soon to break in congress, has broken again into an acute phase in the Imperial Valley with the arrest and conviction of Norman H. Parks, editor of the Holtville "Tribune," for contempt of court.

With 60,000 fighting farmers on the one side and the "county ring," said to be dominated by the private power interests ,and Harry Chandler, publisher of the Los Angeles "Times," who owns 800,000 acres of delta land south of the American border in Mexico, on the other, Editor Parks could be said to be a hostage in the hands of the farmers' enemies until his case is reviewed by the State Supreme Court. The question they must decide is whether an editor criticizing a judicial decision before it is written in the form of a judgment commits contempt.

RECALL FIGHT ECHO

The Parks case grew out of a recall fight last summer. The farmers, incensed over attempts by the "ring" to harrass their irrigation district directors in lobbying for the Swing-Johnson bill, began recall proceedings against Judge Marvin W. Conkling and Dist. Att. Ernest Utley of Imperial county. Although they had obtained 2,000 more names than needed to file the recall petitions, the farmers awoke one morning to hear that a Los Angeles judge, Walton H. Wood, had been called in suddenly and had issued a temporory restraining order stopping the recall on technical grounds. Judge Conkling's own son-in-law, Harry Horton, a lawyer, had secured the order.

Local judges refused to sit on the question of making the order permanent. Another Los Angeles judge was called in. This time it was Judge Ira Thompson. While dissolving the restraining order Judge Thompson ordered it to remain until after review of the Supreme Court and at the same time threw out two-thirds of the recall petition's names. The effect was to not only nullify the recall but virtually to disfranchise a big block of voters and hold all recall proceedings up until after the supreme court could act.

DENOUNCED BY EDITOR

Thinking that the verbal order given by Thompson was final, Editor Parks issued a denunciatory editorial, calling the decision "judicial Bolshevism" and voicing the general resentment at such a drastic action by an outside judge. Horton swore to the arrest of Parks for contempt.

Because a libel or criminal contempt charge would entail a jury trial, Parks was charged with plain contempt. Springing to his defence were the leaders of the fight for the Swing-Johnson bill, including Assemblyman A. C. Finney, Charles Childers, partner of Congressman Phil Swing, and four others. Horton and Randall Perkins, another El Centro lawyer, acted as prosecutors. The trial lasted all day and well into the night. Judge Thompson hurried through a decision. Upon 10 minutes' deliberation at 10:30 p. m., he announced the young editor guilty of contempt. He was sentenced to the limit under the law.

COUNTRYSIDE HERO

Parks, under sentence of five days and $500 fine, is a sort of hero around the countryside. The American Conservation club, now a state-wide organization backing the Swing-Johnson bill, has met and passed resolutions backing the editor in his fight. The people of the valley are raising the fine by subscribing $1 each, to be used if the supreme court sustains the decision. Rev. N. H. Hudson of the Holtville Methodist Episcopal church, has volunteered to serve in jail in place of Mr. Parks. Parks out on $2,000 bail is receiving telegrams from all parts of the country urging him to continue his fight for free speech, the right of franchise and the Swing-Johnson bill.

Unfit To Be A Judge

By JUDGE PALMER, Publisher Hollywood Citizen.
(Published January 28, 1926, following the Parks contempt case)

Being an editor perhaps we are prejudiced.

Still being an editor we have an opinion to express and that is that the judge who resorts to contempt of court preceedings to punish an editor who comments on his decision is exceedingly lacking in real character.

A judge must preserve the dignity of his court room even though it be thought proper to hold in contempt of court those who would interfere with the dignity while court is in session.

But a judge who is unwilling to let his decisions be discussed, criticized or challenged by a newspaper or the public is a judge who himself questions the soundness of his decision or is filled with the idea that he is something other than human and cannot make mistakes.

If judges couldn't make mistakes we would have no need for appellate court. We would have no great libraries of law books filled full of cases where judges point out the errors of each other.

There is more contempt of court in appellate court decisions than in all the newspapers in the country.

A judge is just as human as any of us.

The judge who forgets this is unfit to be a judge.

He is expected to have his own honest opinions and expected to stand up for them and defend them to the best of his learning and logic.

But there is nothing in his job which changes him from a human into an infallible saint.

He is just as likely to make mistakes as a judge as he was before becoming one.

Other people are just as certain to have honest differences of opinion with him as a judge as they were before he became one.

If he is afraid to allow his opinions to be challenged he hasn't much red blood in his veins.

COUNTY LAWYERS RALLY TO AID OF TRIBUNE EDITOR

Seven Offer Free Legal Service In Citation For Court Contempt

(Imperial Valley Press, El Centro)

A number of members of the Imperial county bar are standing behind Norman H. Parks, editor of the Holtville Tribune, who has been cited to appear in the superior court Friday morning to answer a charge of contempt of court. Seven leading attorneys of the county have offered their services without charge.

The action against Parks results from editorials which appeared in the Holtville Tribune last fall, denouncing Judge Ira F. Thompson's decision in the famous recall case which occupied the center of the valley's political stage in October and November.

Seven Offer Services

Parks stated today that the following attorneys have offered to assist him: Charles L. Childers and A. C. Finney, counsel for the Imperial Irrigation district; D. B. Roberts, law partner of Congressman Swing; Alfred G. Blaisdell, Calexico; Vaughn N. Thompson, El Centro; Elmer F. Heald, Calipatria; Joseph F. Seymour, Los Angeles, formerly of this city.

Mark Rose, director of the Imperial irrigation district, in a formal statement, made today, charged that "this trial is but another round in the titanic struggle of those who would kill the Swing-Johnson bill and the development for the people which it contemplates, as against those who are its advocates."

GOVERNOR ASKED TO KEEP LOS ANGELES JUDGES AT HOME

(Imperial Enterprise, Imperial)

At a meeting of the Conservation club, held Monday night at their new quarters in the Masonic Temple, the outstanding feature of the gathering was an ovation for Norman H. Parks of the Holtville Tribune, and an unqualified endorsement of the stand taken by Mr. Parks, together with a resolution placing the club on record as backing Mr. Parks and tendering him the aid and thanks of the assembly. The resolution was passed without a dissenting vote.

Editor Parks was present, and addressed the meeting in a set speech in which he declared that he should continue the editorial duties of his newspaper in the same manner as formerly, regardless of consequences, and if necessary, the policy of the paper would be continued should he be sent to jail.

GOVERNOR IS ASKED CHANGE SYSTEM HERE

(I. V. Farmer, El Centro)

Making a personal plea to Governor Richardson through a resolution passed in open meeting, last night, the American Conservation club went on record as demanding that in the future all outside judges that are sent in to the valley to sit on cases with a political aspect be sent in from the northern districts of the state and not from southern counties.

The resolution complains of the ills of the system "that allows outside judges to come into the county and tie up the valley's progress" with court decisions: "These judges are not responsible to the valley and are beyond control when deciding cases," the resolution declared.

COMMENDS PARKS

A second resolution, a copy of which was forwarded to Governor Richardson, commended the fight made by Norman Parks for the Swing-Johnson bill," and declared that the Holtville editor deserved the thanks of the farmers for his work.

PARKS' ATTITUDE IS ENDORSED BY THE CANAL BOOSTERS

(Brawley News)

Endorsement of the attitude of Norman H. Parks, Editor of the Holtville Tribune, and recently convicted of contempt of court, was made at the meeting of the American Conservation Club at its regular meeting on Monday night, when it passed a resolution expressing its confidence in Mr. Parks and "appreciation of his untiring efforts to promote the cause of the people."

The resolution further requested Governor Richardson and the presiding judges of Riverside and Los Angeles counties to refrain from sending judges from these counties into Imperial county to preside in legal actions.

MANY OFFER TO AID PARKS

(Los Angeles Examiner)

HOLTVILLE, Jan. 28.—Volunteers who are anxious to lend a hand to Norman H. Parks, Holtville editor, who was convicted last week of contempt of court, are sending contributions from all sections of the valley, it was stated today. Close friends of the publisher, whose editorials were declared to have severely criticised a decision of the court in trial of an injunction proceeding to help the recall of District Attorney Utley several months ago, have declared they will not accept contributions above $1 from any individual. One resident of the valley offered to donate $50 toward the $500 fine, but $49 were returned.

Probably the most striking offer to assist the editor was made today by the Reverend Newton Hudson of this city, pastor of the Methodist Church. The Rev. Mr. Hudson asked to be allowed to serve one day in the county jail for Parks. The jail sentence against Parks is five days.

Congregational Church News

"For the Beauty of the Earth," will be the subject of the pastor's Sunday morning sermon. The text is based on the parable of the Prodigal Son. It may be that for years we have not been living up to our own standards of goodness. It is never too late to begin overcoming spiritual inefficiency.

The Sunday School in the twenty minutes of opening exercises is featuring the learning of the most interesting incidents recorded in the Bible as well as discovering how to relate the different books to each other. Beginning a week from Sunday each pupil will be given a pencil and note-pad with which he is expected to record the things he wishes to remember. By the end of the Sunday School year each pupil should have a working knowledge of the Bible. Any child not attending a similar service elsewhere is cordially invited to become a member of our Sunday School.

Bible Theatre on the Air, KQW, 4:00 o'clock Sunday afternoon, will present a dramatization of the well-known Bible story of the healing of the lame man near the Pool of Bethesda. "The Pool of Bethesda," is located in Jerusalem, near the Sheep Gate. If you listen in on our play, you will hear what an ancient and highly dramatic people probably were thinking in respect to the healing. The people in the play as you will first hear them are:

Elasia, the mother of a lame son, Mrs. Duffie; Abiatha, her daughter, Barbara Straub; David, the lame boy, Vernon Ellsworth; Levi, a priest, Clark A. Griffin; Tattathias, a scribe, Charles Mirick; and Shinar, the lame man cured by Jesus, Wesley Dexter Gordon.

Albert E. Sherman, prominent Los Angeles attorney, is waging a very unique campaign for the Republican nomination as Lieutenant Governor,, as shown by the above picture.

Preceding Mr. Sherman's latest speaking tour of the State, this attractively decorated "Covered Wagon" pulled by a new Ford V-8 passed through our city today in charge of his publicity manager, stopping for a short visit at the Register office.

Mr. Sherman states: "I favor a drastic reduction of taxes, by the abolishing of over-lapping bureaus, committees and commissions, in every government department."

"I believe the unemployment situation can be greatly relieved, by giving our men and women an opportunity to build something permanent for themselves, either in placer gold mining or farming, rather than the makeshift dole system of receiving tax funds for raking brush over on one side of the road, where the wind blows it back again."

In further comment upon his campaign, Mr. Sherman reminds us that back in '64, it was "Sherman's March to the Sea," but in '34, it is "Sherman's March to Sacramento".

Union Chides Industrial Association In Resolution

Resolution adopted by Newark branch of Local No. 164, International Molders' Union, San Francisco, Calif., relative to the longshoremen's strike of the Pacific coast and the recent general strike of San Francisco and bay district organized labor.

Whereas: The members of Newark branch, of Local No. 164, International Molders' Union, San Francisco, Calif., believe that the Longshoremen's strike of the Pacific coast, involving San Francisco and the bay district, was primarily the result of the following conditions and causes:

(1) Hindrance, evasion and nullification activities by the employers, relative to the proper application of the labor provisions contained in section "7-A," of the National Industrial Recovery Act, which section of said act provides for the right of labor to organize and bargain collectively through representatives of its own choosing, without the interference, hindrance, restraint or coercion of employers of labor.

(2) The application of favoritism, discrimination and company union activities by the employers contrary to said section "7-A," of said act and for the purpose of discrediting, hindering and nullifying the intent and purposes of the labor provisions of said act, and

Whereas: We believe, that the recent general strike of San Francisco and the bay district, regardless of its advisability or inadvisability, was not mainly the result of communistic origin and influences, as is now being claimed by the press and others, but, is mainly the result of the following conditions and causes:

(1) Dictatorial and defying tactics, injected into the longshoremen's strike by the industrial Association of San Francisco, an anti-union organization, such as the opening of the port and waterfront by force, contrary to the appeals and desires of Mayor Rossi of San Francisco and President Roosevelt's longshoremen's board, which board was the only authorized authority in full charge of the settlement of the controversy at the time and had not yet completed, or exhausted its efforts and duties to bring about a proper settlment of the controversy.

(2) The bringing in of the National Guard troops into San Francisco, favorable to the employer's side of the controversy, but not equally favorable to the striker's side of the controversy, because of the use of troops for the protection of strikebreakers. (A more impartial and satisfactory solution for this emergency would have been for the state to operate the trucks for the delivery of necessities required to meet the public welfare, instead of the Industrial Association with its professional strikebreakers under the protection of state troops) and

Whereas: We believe that the longshoremen's strike and the subsequent recent general strike of San Francisco and the bay district, would not have happened had it not been for the primary causes mentioned in this resolution, and

Whereas: We feel that the labor organizations of San Francisco and the bay district, particularly the strategy committee of seven prominent labor leaders and the general strike committee of the said labor organizations and all others who contributed their efforts in formulating a favorable solution of the trying issues involved in this general strike situation, are deserving of the highest praise and commendation for their leadership and efforts in bringing this situation to a timely and favorable conclusion, now, therefore, be it

Resolved: By Newark branch of Local No. 164, International Molders' Union of San Francisco, Calif., at its regular meeting held on July 20, 1934, at Newark, Calif., that by virtue of this resolution, we hereby desire to go on record and convey our highest praise and commendation to the San Francisco Labor Council, the strategy committee of seven prominent labor leaders, the general strike committee, and also all others concerned, for their leadership and efforts in bringing this general strike to a timely and satisfactory conclusion, and be it further

Resolved: That, like the American Federation of Labor movement in general, we do not now nor ever did approve of, or support any communism or communistic leadership, but feel that the most effective way to combat communism and radicalism is at the source, namely industrial strife and injustice, which breeds communism, and for which the most effective solution is a balanced and adequate compensation and working conditions, established through self organization and representative collective bargaining, and the proper and just application of the rights of organized labor on an equal basis with those of the employers of labor, also the proper application of the labor policies of the American Federation of Labor, and the labor provisions of section "7-A" of the National Industrial Recovery Act, and be it further

Resolved: That a copy of this resolution be entered upon the records of Newark branch of Local No. 164, International Molders' Union, and a copy be forwarded to the San Francisco Labor Council and all others desiring a copy of same.

Respectfully submitted by the committee representing Newark Branch of Local No. 164, I. M. U.

ARTS, CRAFTS GUILD HAS INTERESTING MEET MONDAY

Thirty minutes was all the time allotted to the discussion of business details at the Monday night meet of the Washington Township Arts and Craft Guild, when that group gathered at the home of Mrs. Nell F. Myers. The thirty minute limit on business discussion follows a suggestion by Wesley Dexter Gordon, Guild head, that organization polemics would waste a great deal of time unless checked.

Following the business period, which was principally a report of the constitution committee, a varied and interesting program was enjoyed. Miss Dorothy Ormsby, sang two numbers, accompanied at the piano by her sister, Arwina. Mrs. E. C. Grau, head of the Fine Arts group, gave an excellent talk on a display of paintings she had seen at the Palace of the Legion of Honor in San Francisco. The display was primarily of the work of Vincent Van Gogh, the "mad artist." Mrs. Grau told of his extraordinary use of color, and compared his work with that of Corot and Piccasso. She showed a number of her own recent paintings.

Miss Phoebe Ormsby followed with a discussion of water colors, giving a description of technique and methods used. A number of Miss Ormsby's paintings, depicting rustic scenes, were favorably criticised.

Jack Williamson gave an interesting talk on etchings, describing the dry point and acid methods, and commented on the possibilities offered by the formation of an amateur photographers section in the organization.

The literary portion of the evening was begun with Wesley Dexter Gordon's reading of a prose article written by A. A. Hatch, and a poem by Mrs. Adams. Mrs. Jack Williamson read two of her poems, as did Mrs. Nell Myers. The latter chose her readings from some of her works recently published in American anthologies.

A dramatic sketch, "The Two Goofs" was given by Wesley Dexter Gordon, who also read one of three radio serials he had written.

Henri Salz, famous concert pianist, played two original compositions, and commented briefly on them.

The next meeting, under the direction of the crafts and music groups will be held on September 10, at the Williamson home. All who feel that their creative talents will be enhanced by working with the group are cordially invited to attend.

Depression Hits Santa Monica PELICANS

There's a story that comes out of Southern California. It's about the pelicans of Santa Monica Bay and these pelicans remind us of a lot of us human beings. The experience teaches us that more and better sales effort is required of every last one of us.

For years these pelicans had been fed by fishermen from their surplus catch, until they got the habit of eating without work.

This year high seas changing currents off Santa Monica cut down the catch, and fishermen no longer had any fish to spare. They noticed that the pelicans languished and grew thin and it dawned on them that they had forgotten how to fish for themselves. So they went down the coast and found some unpampered pelicans who had never been ruined by easy living and free fish. They turned them loose among the starving birds, who sat about on the beach and complained of hard times.

The way those imported pelicans went out after their own fish was an eye-opener. Pretty soon the hungry natives quit watching and tried it themselves. They discovered there are plenty of fish in the sea for the bird with energy and enterprise. And they've quit talking about the hard times."
